Lady Gaga's tour rider apparently includes bikes. We hear the "Born This Way" singer, in order to stay fit on the road, has bought two custom-made Soul Cycle spin bikes from the studio. The yellow machines were produced in partnership with Villency Design Group and retail for about $2,200 each.

Gaga is getting some of the first bikes off the production line in time for her world tour, which kicks off in Seoul April 27. The bikes will appear in Soul Cycle studios this summer.
